Management and Collaboration

All partners were asked to fill in an evaluation questionnaire regarding management and collaboration aspects of the project. In this report, we summarize the results for the period from 2022-10-01 to 2025-03-31.

We received responses from 7 participants from 7 organizations (on behalf of all Project Partners and the Coordinator).

Your institution:

7 odpowiedzi

Partners were asked about their satisfaction level regarding the project. Partners were asked to answer on a scale (strongly disagree - strongly agree) the following aspects:

- Communication within the consortium
- Quality of the produced outcomes
- Management of the project
- Level of commitment among the Partnership
- Understanding of the future action plan for the project development
- Problem solving methods

Below is how the results were presented:

Partners' satisfaction level regarding the project:

In general, partners are satisfied with all aspects. We received one response stating that problem solving methods met with neutral expectations.

Respondents have also shared their overall opinion about the project”

Answers:

The project was motivating for future art-based initiatives.

The MOVE & ACT project was a well-structured and highly relevant initiative that effectively addressed the challenges faced by young people at risk of social exclusion. By combining artistic expression with digital innovation, the project not only enhanced creative and technical skills but also empowered youth by providing them with a platform to share their experiences and challenges. The integration of visual arts with digital tools like 3D printing and the establishment of a digital hub and online contest contributed to fostering self-esteem, a sense of belonging, and entrepreneurial potential. The project was particularly timely, considering the long-term effects of social isolation and economic instability following the pandemic. Its strong alignment with EU priorities on youth employment and social inclusion further enhanced its impact.

The MOVE&ACT project has successfully developed innovative and practical tools that are highly beneficial for both young people and professionals working with them. These tools not only enhance artistic and digital skills but also foster entrepreneurship and social inclusion, making them valuable resources for long-term impact. Moreover, the strength of the project lies in its diverse and experienced partnership, bringing together organizations from different European countries with expertise in youth empowerment, arts, technology, and social entrepreneurship. This transnational collaboration has enriched the project's outcomes, ensuring a broader perspective and wider applicability of the developed tools.

Move&Act was a very satisfying project in which a lot of aspects of enhancing the skills of the artists were met. I believe its a complete approach and provides tools for development

I liked the project very much and also consortium

Good work overall! Managing so many results was a challenge, but it was well coordinated.

Participants also shared additional feedback or comments regarding the consortium's cooperation.

Answers:

Some problems were not solved in a timely manner.

The cooperation within the consortium was productive and well-coordinated, ensuring that each partner contributed meaningfully to the project's objectives. The diverse expertise of the organizations involved enriched the implementation process, allowing for a multidisciplinary approach that blended education, technology, and social impact. Clear communication, joint decision-making, and a shared vision were key strengths in the collaboration. Maintaining strong cross-partner coordination and knowledge exchange throughout the project helped to maximize its effectiveness.

This partnership is hardworking who helped each other and made decisions together. Open communication made sure the project ran smoothly and had a lasting impact, helping young people through creativity, technology, and entrepreneurship.

The consortium worked well together and even when issues were risen they found a way to resolve everything in a way that did not affect the overall work of the partners

this dedicated partnership worked collaboratively, supporting one another and making decisions together. Open communication ensured the project's smooth execution

The cooperation was smooth and respectful.

In general all willing to cooperate and work diligently.

Other considerations, feedback, etc.:

Answers:

Additional feedback includes the importance of ensuring accessibility for all target groups, particularly young people with disabilities and NEETs, who required extra support in navigating digital tools. Strengthening local partnerships with youth organizations, cultural institutions, and policymakers further enhanced outreach and impact. A structured evaluation and follow-up plan post-project would help measure long-term success and explore possibilities for scaling the initiative. Overall, MOVE & ACT was a powerful and forward-thinking project that effectively bridged art, digital skills, and social empowerment, creating lasting change for vulnerable youth.

Nothing to add.

No further comments.

Results

WP2: MOVE & ACT Training programme

The results of WP2 were evaluated during an international peer review. It included a structured reflection on each partner's national presentation and aimed to draw conclusions for the overall comparative report. The peer review was conducted using a template.

The partners conducted a series of webinars about basic artistic and digital skills for young people, young migrants and NEETs. The consortium created a form in Google Forms to evaluate each webinars. The evaluation report of the MOVE&ACT webinars can be found in separate file.

After the WP2 work was completed, one representative per partner assessed the overall quality of the products.

All partners participated, providing a total of 8 responses.

The workshop was really inspiring

Webinars

Face-to-face training, guide

The partnership, all members are truly professional and perform their duties excellently and on time. 3D design and printing - lots of curiosities, and the fact the webinars/ WP2 contents is addressed to marginalized young people.

The multitude of topics covered in the webinars Webinars were very inspiring.

- What did you like least about WP2?

Answers:

Sometimes it was hard for webinar participants to be present at all events.

It was stressful to find participants for the webinars

Nothing, everything were well thought, prepared and executed.

The partners did not share any additional suggestions for improving future work packages.

WP2.6: The Training Activity - LTTA in Athens

On 19-23 June 2023 e-Nable Greece hosted a workshop in Athens, where young participants took part in a 5-day training-workshop. During this workshop, they had the opportunity to learn and develop their artistic skills in the Visual Arts field, while also exploring new technologies.

All partners evaluated the workshop, providing 14 answers in total.

Your institution:
14 odpowiedzi

Partners were asked about their overall evaluation of the workshops. Partners were asked to answer on a scale (strongly disagree - strongly agree) the following aspects:

- Structure of the workshops
- Topics discussed at the workshops
- The materials presented at the workshops
- The possibility to interact with other participants
- The level of satisfaction of the leader of the workshops
- Venue and logistics organization
- Overall opinion about the workshops

Overall Evaluation of the Workshops

The structure of the workshop was rated as well prepared by 8 participants, and 6 of them had a neutral opinion. The partners agreed that topics discussed and materials prepared at the workshops were applicable, with only one participant having a neutral opinion. Same goes for the level of satisfaction of the leader of the workshops – only one respondent remained neutral.

The overall ability to interact with other participants and venue and logistics organization was mostly very good, with two exceptions where participants disagreed with the statements. One person remained neutral.

The overall opinion about the workshops is very good, only three participants remained neutral.

The next question was open-ended so that partners could describe what they thought of the workshops and what could be done to improve the quality of such events in the future.

Answers:

Living in one place would be helpful for integrating with the group

It would be nice to organise common lunches better

More 3D practicing

Everything was interesting and all the materials was very clear and useful

I think that the visit of Athens (the group play) should have been organized in the evening or early in the morning because at the time we did it, there was really hot weather

The specifics of the program should be arranged

Adjust the daily plan

The fact that we only spent the mornings together made it difficult for us to feel that we were a whole big team. The organisation and the timetables of the activities were not so clear, we didn't know the actual planning beforehand (at least it didn't match as much as we expected to the one that we had). I didn't get why we got to the contemporary art museum (instead of a more typical Athenian museum, for example). Thanos was my favourite leader. It was a great experience tho!!

I really enjoyed the 3D printing workshops with Thanos from e-Nable Greece, he explained everything so well and it was very interesting, amazing. On the other hand, I didn't enjoy the experience on Thursday, although social stories seem very interesting and necessary to me. Overall, the project has given me new knowledge that I value a lot.

The experience and the opportunity has been amazing. The best part of the training the 3D printing. Thanos from e-Nable Greece has been an incredible teacher. Great attitude, he knew how to motivate us. The 3D printing stuff he teach us was clear and interesting. He also include topics about Greece, and we really appreciate that.

On the other hand I have to say I'm quite disappointed with the organisation. The timetable was changing always (which is ok, because they give us the afternoon free all the week, that was nice), but.... It was quite chaotic. We never really knew when it was gonna be free or not until the last moment or what we que gonna do (not with Thanos, he was the clearest).The two last days even more chaotic; because we never knew what we were gonna do. We had to be changing our plans because of that. They never told us that there was a restaurant book for lunch every day. I think there was kind of problem with communication.

The communication

WP3: MOVE & ACT Digital Hub

The results gathered so far from WP3 were evaluated during an international peer review. It included a structured reflection on each partner's national presentation and aimed to draw conclusions for the overall comparative report.

In WP3: MOVE & ACT Digital Hub partners designed a video guide for Elevator pitch.

The result of the video guide was evaluated by at least 2 students and 2 teachers from each partner. We received 33 answers in total (from 17 teachers and 16 students).

The first section was about the overall quality of the Elevator pitch video guide. Respondents were asked to answer on a scale (strongly disagree - strongly agree) the following aspects:

- The overall quality of the Elevator pitch video guide is high.

- The form of material is attractive from the visual point of view.
- The content of the guide is clear.
- The content of the guide is suitable for young artists.
- The material is clear, easy to understand and intuitive in usage especially for young artists.
- The Elevator pitch video guide adequately addresses accessibility considerations for artists with disabilities.
- The content and language used in the guide are gender-unbiased and inclusive.

Below is how the results were presented:

As can be seen from the above, the participants were very satisfied with the overall results of the Elevator pitch video guide. Most of them agreed that the form of the materials was attractive to them - only one student remained neutral on the subject. Respondents agreed that the content of the guide was clear and appropriate for young artists. The same opinion applies to the clarity of the materials used in the guide.

The participants also spoke very good about Elevator pitch video guide being addressable for artists with disabilities, with the exception of one teacher and four students, who remained neutral on the issue.

Respondents strongly agreed that the content and language used in the guide was gender-biased and inclusive, with only one student remaining neutral.

The above results show that overall satisfaction with the Elevator pitch video guide is very high.

We also asked whether the guide was motivating for our respondents. For 93,9% (31 of 33) participants Elevator pitch video guide was motivational. Two participants remained undecided.

Was the guide motivational for You?

Participants were also asked if they knew how to present their professional background. 81,8% (27 of 33) participants agreed with the question. Six participants remained undecided.

Did You get to know how to present Your professional background?

The next two questions was open-ended so that respondents could describe what they thought about the usefulness of the documents. The questions were:

- Does the document need the addition of sections to reach completeness?

Answers:

I believe that the guide is complete and does not need additional sections.

The accessibility part could be developed further

"In general, it would be good to have more examples of good and bad pitches / parts of pitches. For example, 8:50 ""hand gestures"" is a good topic to do it, but also few others, like ""shrugging shoulders"" which is a difficult word and might not be understood.

What is more, some exercises/activities would be appreciated to practice the gained knowledge. Other comments:

1. 0:45, 1:43, 2:16, 2:29, 3:13, 8:10, 9:05, 9:13, etc. – Here and in other moments sound is played faster than it should as the images are still changing/moving. It looks like it is cut in a wrong moment.

2. Sound/voice of a man and sometimes of a woman is not always good, there is an echo, and I had to read the text (especially when the man was speaking).

3. 1:48 – The first sentence is not visible (the one before ""I'm 27"").

4. 2:00 – Example 2 is not fully shown.

5. 2:05 – Example 3 is shown twice.

6. From 2:30 – All questions should be written separately (one question on one slide), so audience can really focus on each question/topic.

Additionally, it could also be more practical if audience has some time to think and write down their thoughts/ideas. E.g. the counting could be set between questions.

7. 3:42 – The tip (first sentence) is not said and the sound is bad.

8. 6:26, 6:44 – ""6. personal branding"" and ""8. show appreciation"" could have an example too, they are interesting.

9. 6:58 – It would be amazing to find an example for adapting to different platforms.

10. From 7:21 – All questions should be written separately (one question on one slide), so audience can really focus on each question/topic.

11. 7:51 – Having some example of this strong finish would be great.

12. 8:30 – Word ""make"" is cut.

13. 8:57 – Word ""moving"" is cut.

14. 9:33 – Words ""remember, confidence"" is cut.

"- sometimes voices are overlapping - Cinta is still talking, and already we can also hear the voiceover (this happens more than once),

- you use mostly contractions (you're), but sometimes longer forms (you are),

- I cannot hear the guy well, similarly with Cinta,

- the penultimate board/ slide with people's names to thank should last longer; I managed to read 2 names only...,

- 1:53 incorrect spelling of the word ""height"" – it should be ""height"" and it is ""hight"".

Maybe some practical exercises.

I would include additional details about accessibility and simplify the language for clarity and ease of understanding

I found the robotic tone of the video's narration quite unappealing

Could you provide examples of pitches that focus not only on presenting work but also on soliciting donations, along with relevant links and resources?

Consider adding a SWOT analysis for an art exhibition, or a 3-year financial plan for opening an art gallery

Perhaps sources with examples

Perhaps a section on how to collaborate with other artists

"00:45- slides move to the next one too quickly (the guy didn't finish his speech)

1:40- Should we provide the source?

2:16 at the beginning it's hard to hear the lector

5:07 The word journey is partly covered by the element of the background 5:52

the word connections is partly covered by the element of the background Some headings (eye contact, body language) are not hearable well

Good luck- maybe it will be good if he will ask if the elevator is going up

Project title and number is missing- maybe we can use slides from the webinars? Maybe it will be good also to have all logos (again- cover page from webinars?)

- Are there any sections in the document that should be removed?

Answers:

Perhaps it is excessively long, but I did not find it boring

Maybe not removed, but I think some of videos are too loud and compare to rest of video

No. I would only recommend some sound adjustments or double-checking slides transition.

Maybe make the "bio and portfolio" section shorter.

There are no sections in the document that should be removed. My concern is more about parts where the audio track is very hard to understand. Maybe there is a way to provide better sound in those parts?

Responses to the proposed amendments to the questions above have been forwarded to the project leader for modification.

WP3.3: The Training Activity: Webinar for Elevator Pitch video guide

One webinar training about the Elevator pitch took place through the Zoom platform on the 15th of December 2023 for over 70 participants.

The consortium published an open call in social media to gather any young person willing to attend. The webinar was held in English and was recorded. The webinar is available on the project platform: <https://moveandactplatform.eu/elevator-pitch/>

At the end of the webinar, to assess effectiveness, participants were asked about their opinions and satisfaction through zoom poll. We received 44 answers in total.

The first question concerns whether respondents enjoyed the webinar. All participants agreed that they liked it very much.

Did You like the webinar?

The second question was to check if the webinar was delivered in an entertaining and attractive way for the respondents. They all agreed with this statement.

Was the webinar conducted in an interesting and encouraging way?

The next question was to check whether the webinar helped participants to better present their professional background and artwork. The majority of respondents agreed (91%), with the exception of four participants who remained neutral.

Further question explored if the participants learned new practical skills by attending the webinar. Most of respondents agreed (93%), with the exception of three participants who remained neutral.

Do you think that you learned new practical skills that you will be able to use?

The last question was open-ended so that respondents could describe what they thought of the webinar. The question was:

- What was the most valuable part of the webinar for you?

Answers:

Some examples and videos.

The steps of how to present yourself in elevator pitch, the examples which helped me to compare to my vision of the elevator pitch.

The idea of the elevator pitch to use it on social media

The sole concept of elevator pitch - useful and interesting The suggestions on how to prepare a webinar

Accessible way of passing the knowledge Clear instructions

The whole webinar was interesting.

The examples provided and the suggestions on how to prepare an elevator pitch.

Digital self-presentation examples

The trainer!!!!!! Chapeau!

All webinar was worth attention

Dos and Don'ts

That everything was clear and how easy it can be to convey ideas to others in short time

To see different examples of elevator pitch from worst to best

The elevator speech concept itself

WP4: MOVE & ACT Online PhotoVoice Contest and Exhibition

The implementation of the Online PhotoVoice CONTEST with Art photos focused on highlighting problems and challenges of youth's local communities. This result contributed to providing young people at risk of social exclusion with the opportunity to raise their voice about their personal challenges or the challenges of their communities and increased public awareness about these problems/challenges.

After the WP2 work was completed, one representative per partner assessed the overall quality of the Work Package.

All partners participated, providing a total of 7 responses.

Your institution:

The next 2 questions were open-ended so that partners could describe how they felt about the meeting. The questions were:

- What did you like most about WP4?

Answers:

it was a very well structured and well defined fwork freamework with very interesting deliverables

Engaging the target group directly was the best part.

WP4 stood out for its innovative and inclusive approach, empowering young people at risk of social exclusion to express their challenges through photography and 3D printing. The Online PhotoVoice Contest provided a meaningful platform for artistic storytelling, while the Lithophane technique added a unique and tangible dimension to the project. The creation of a digital platform and the final digital exhibition enhanced accessibility, public engagement, and community awareness, making WP4 a dynamic and impactful initiative.

I appreciate WP4 for its innovative approach in empowering marginalized youth through art and digital skills development. The PhotoVoice Contest and Exhibition not only fosters creativity but also raises public awareness about real social challenges. I particularly like how it combines photography, storytelling, and 3D printing (Lithophane technique) to create a meaningful and lasting impact.

The real impact in the target groups, we actually go to see our final product in action.

- What did you like least about WP4?

Answers:

the struggle to find people to submit their art work aki participate to the contest

The biggest challenge was getting participants to submit their photos

One potential challenge of WP4 was ensuring equal participation, especially for those with limited access to digital tools or prior experience in photography and 3D printing. Providing clear technical support and guidance was crucial to maximizing engagement. Additionally, the success of the final exhibition depended on a strong dissemination strategy to attract attention from the public, policymakers, and stakeholders.

Everything was ok.

Nothing bad to say.

- Please share any suggestions you might have for improving the next work packages.?

Answers:

No comments

no sugestions

there are no net work packages

It was a great experience! A bit more time for collecting materials could make it even better. Thanks to the team for all the effort!

To improve future work packages, it would be beneficial to offer short tutorials or workshops to guide participants in using digital tools effectively. Strengthening collaborations with local organizations, schools, and youth centers can help reach a more diverse audience. A well-structured communication plan for the exhibition, possibly involving local media and policymakers, will increase visibility and impact. Finally, implementing a feedback mechanism to gather insights from participants and exploring ways to sustain the platform beyond the project's timeline will ensure its long-term success.
